Chief Judges Announce Formation of Workplace Conduct Committee

Washington, D.C. - June 4, 2018: Chief Judges Merrick Garland and Beryl Howell have appointed a circuit-wide committee to address issues of workplace conduct.

The Workplace Conduct Committee is co-chaired by Circuit Judge Nina Pillard and Senior District Judge Rosemary Collyer. The other members of the committee are Circuit Judge Thomas Griffith, District Judge Rudolph Contreras, Circuit Executive Betsy Paret, and District Court Clerk of Court Angela Caesar.

The committee has already solicited and received a set of recommendations from a group of former law clerks. It will now begin to address the recommendations of the judiciary-wide Federal Judiciary Workplace Conduct Working Group, which were released earlier today.
